- 1) The SEND provision at Cheddington School is on an individual needs basis for any child for whom a mainstream setting is appropriate.

The school's Accessibility policy can be found here:

<https://www.cheddingtonschool.org/page/?title=Our+School+Policies&pid=31>

- 2) Pupils are identified as needing extra support from information such as:

- Concerns raised by parents/carers or the child
- Robust tracking, involving all teachers, teaching assistants (TAs), Special Educational Needs/Disabilities Co-ordinator (SENDCo) and the Head
- Targeted assessments carried out by SENDCo and trained TAs

How we monitor provision:

- In consultation with the child and parent/carer, SEND Support Plans are written by the teacher, in conjunction with the parents, and are overseen by the SENDCo; these are reviewed regularly. Support Plans are also used to show how support is targeted and the effectiveness of the intervention.
- Assessments are used on a termly basis to ascertain attainment and progress through age related curriculum standards and to pinpoint any pupils who are struggling to meet attainment and/ or progress expectations. Access arrangements are followed for pupils with Special Educational Needs/Disabilities (SEND).
- Through the effectiveness of reasonable adjustments and Universal Provision class support and interventions are monitored through a variety of platforms; termly data; pupil progress meetings; books and observations; SEND support Plans; interventions and learning walks. This information is also used to inform the review of SEND Support Plans.
- Assessment takes place at the start and finish of short-term learning programmes, and every six weeks for ongoing learning programmes. Provision is formally assessed and reviewed three times per year using the school's tracking system and teacher assessment as appropriate, including the Annual Review process for pupils with an Education Health and Care Plan (EHCP). All teachers, TAs, Head Teacher and SENDCo are involved, as well as any external agencies who give advice / provision to specific pupils.

- 3) The School's approach to teaching:

- We promote inclusion to include pupils with SEND both inside the classroom and during extracurricular activities and trips. Our staff have high expectations of all pupils and teachers plan ways to remove barriers to learning by reasonable adjustments and differentiations to support those pupils who need more guidance in order to access learning.
- Risk assessments are carried out for offsite visits (where necessary) and school will put in place procedures to enable all pupils to participate.
- We provide adapted activities to a common learning outcome across the curriculum.
- All staff are given training on strategies to use in the classroom to support pupils who have specific needs.

- Some pupils receive allocated time out of the classroom with specific support staff.
- Emotional and social development is supported through various avenues including support groups and social skills groups run both within year groups and across age ranges. These groups are facilitated by Emotional Literacy Support Assistant (ELSA) trained support staff.
- All pupils, including those with SEND, are expected to participate fully in all learning opportunities and classroom routines. Staff recognise that pupils with SEND may require additional support or adaptations to do so successfully.
